Module Aims
To provide the student with an understanding of the analysis of human skeletal remains by appreciating theoretical and practical issues studied through lecture and laboratory sessions.

Outline Syllabus
Introduction to skeletal anatomy; Skeletal and dental inventories; Bioarchaeological approaches to human remains. Growth, development and ossification; Ethics in human osteoarchaeology. Calculating MNI. Sexual dimorphism and sex assessment. Age estimation in non-adults and adults. Introduction to palaeodemography. Introduction to palaeopathology. Non-metric skeletal variation. Metric analysis. Ancestry assessment. Locating and excavating human remains. Cremated remains. Skeletal taphonomy and the issue of biased samples.

Learning Outcomes
Outcome Number	Description
01	Review the analysis of human skeletal remains within a bio-cultural context.
02	Identify human remains (both adult and non-adult) to an advanced level.
03	Analyse and interpret morphological and metrical characteristics.
04	Critically assess data drawn from a wide variety of sources.
05	Demonstrate report writing skills.

Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy
Lectures cover theoretical issues and their content which are assessed in the skeletal report and group presentation. Laboratories develop practical skills which are assessed in the skeletal report; opportunity for detailed skeletal analyses is provided within the hours of directed study. Formative feedback given in lab sessions, summative feedback provided over Canvas, with opportunity to discuss with module leader. Students will use Directed Study for reading of literature detailed in the module documentation; and for researching and preparing for coursework.

Mode of Assessment
Type	Method	Description	Weighting
Summative	Presentation	Tutorial presentation (20 Minutes). SUPP: Individual Presentation	30%
Summative	Coursework - Written	Skeletal Report (3000 words)	70%
