Introduction

In accordance with the University's mission 'Making Knowledge Work', the School of Management aims to provide programmes that educate students as a manager and business specialist, and thus improve the quality of management as a profession.

The Master’s in Marketing and Management is aligned with the expertise within the International Business Marketing and Branding Research Centre and is designed to provide students with the necessary knowledge and skills in business and management subjects to enhance their utility and employability in the field of marketing and management. The programme cultivates the ethos of an engaging and inclusive learning community that is responsive to different learning styles and allows each student to develop to their full potential.

The Master’s in Marketing and Management is supported by experienced academics associated with the International Business Marketing and Branding Research Centre. Members of this research centre have a reputation in the field and provide significant insights into key areas of business in creating and measuring value, and views of marketing from a strategic perspective. The programme contains an international dimension. The aim is to produce fully rounded managers with an emphasis on marketing by combining marketing theory and practice with a detailed treatment of other subjects concerned with the management of organisations. Throughout this programme, students will have opportunities to develop research and analytical skills, real-life problem-solving capacities, and the personal and interpersonal skills needed to succeed prepare individuals for employment.

The programme is commensurate with the UK QAA Benchmark for a Type 2 (Career Entry) Master's Degree in Business and Management and is suitable for students from a wide range of backgrounds with first degrees in any subject from an approved university, or an acceptable professional qualification.

On graduation from this programme students will have developed a portfolio of work that demonstrates competence and employability and will thus be well-placed to access a range of career opportunities in marketing and management either nationally or internationally. Therefore, graduates from this programme will be able to contribute to business and society as a whole whilst applying the highest professional standards and will be capable of identifying their own professional development requirements. Equipped with the skills, knowledge and critical faculties required to operate and thrive in the contemporary business environment, these graduates will be ideally placed to pursue a career in business and commerce with a particular focus on marketing.

Programme Aims

The programme is intended to:

- Develop management professionals with a sound theoretical understanding of organisational activities and the complexities that arise in the management of these as a consequence of the interrelationships that exist between them.
- Develop students competence in a range of analytical and personal skills necessary to enable them to make an effective and immediate contribution to the performance of an organisation in a range of functional areas.
- Develop a critical awareness of the current issues affecting the discipline and the knowledge, skills and expertise to assist organisations in achieving a sustainable business future.
- Help those with knowledge and expertise in other disciplines to make the transition to the business and management world and assist them in developing their existing skills and knowledge within the business and management context.
- Provide the knowledge and skills to assist students to take an active role in your future development as professional managers in a dynamic and changing global environment and to contribute effectively to their chosen profession.

Learning and Teaching Strategy

Generally, this programme aims at integrating applied and theoretical knowledge with assessment processes that test both knowledge of the discipline and understanding of its application and limitations. The learning and teaching strategy put significant emphasis on the development of analytical, practical and interpersonal skills. Throughout the programme, students will be actively engaged in a diverse range of learning activities designed to develop your capacities for thoughtful analysis and reflective practice. Teaching on the programme will take different formats and will be directed, supported and reinforced through a combination of formal lectures, staff/student led group tasks and discussions, simulations, personal research and guided self-study, tutorials, seminars and directed reading. Sessions may be delivered weekly or in blocks.

Small Group sessions will use case studies and simulations with formative feedback given in class. Students will be guided to suitable primary and secondary data sources and be required to conduct research and presentation exercises. These activities will all be further supported by the use of a virtual learning environment.

In addition to learning within modules, personal academic tutors will support individual academic development, by helping in analysing learning needs, developing appropriate learning strategies that enable students to reflect on their own progress. Building many and varied opportunities to engage with and learn from each other into the programme is integral to fostering an inclusive learning environment.

Further, there are many opportunities to take part in exciting extra-curricular activities. The Faculty's own Career Booster professional development programme will offer opportunities to advance intellectual and employability skills (e.g. critical thinking, communication, team work, problem solving). The School of Management is a very dynamic with a diverse and active Faculty and wider University. It arranges numerous events and opportunities each semester beyond the taught modules to engage with not only academic but also policy and practitioner events and issues. These include invited speakers, seminars, workshops, activities and conferences, both off and on-campus. Please note that such off-campus learning activities may involve an extra cost to the student.

University wide there is support available for students for academic skills, information literacy and programming language learning.

Assessment Strategy

The assessment strategy for this programme is based on principles of constructive alignment, diversity and inclusion. It employs a well-developed range of formative and summative assessments tasks which are designed to help students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding as well as a skill set in accordance with the learning outcomes for the programme overall and for specific modules. Our overall strategy aims to develop ability to succeed in a global context, and to assist individuals to take effective roles within them in a balanced and diverse range of assessment tasks.

The formative assessment strategy includes monitoring student’s learning throughout each semester, using a range of class and seminar activities, personal tutors, project supervision and a variety of coursework, including essays, reflective notes, literature reviews, oral or audio-visual presentations, and group and individual tasks for which formative feedback is given.
The programme is summatively assessed by a mixture of written examinations, assessed coursework, case studies, group projects and [multimedia] presentations. Assessment is integrated with learning and teaching to support and demonstrate achievement of the learning outcomes for individual modules and the programme as a whole.

Learning outcomes 1, 2 and 3 are focused on knowledge. They are assessed by a mixture of closed book examinations and individual pieces of coursework and group work, including [multimedia] presentations.

Learning outcomes 4, 5 and 6 are focused on subject specific skills aimed to equip students with the practical ability to directly contribute to a marketing and management role. They are assessed by a mixture of closed book examinations and individual pieces of coursework and group work, including [multimedia] presentations.

Learning Outcomes 7, 8 and 9 are focused on the transferable skills that are so important to employability, such as communication, practical creativity and self-awareness. They are assessed by a mixture of individual coursework, group coursework, individual and group presentations (including multi-media), examination and individual coursework.

The dissertation is a capstone module assessing all learning outcomes. The dissertation involves carrying out an extended piece of written work involving an original and in-depth investigation of a programme-specific issue.

Assessment Regulations

This Programme conforms to the standard University Assessment Regulations which are available at the link below

However, there is one waiver exception to these regulations as listed below:

On completion of the taught element of the programme and at the Interim Exam Board, a student who has 50 credits or more requiring supplementary assessment will not be permitted to proceed to the dissertation stage of the programme. The decision to allow progression will only be reconsidered at the Supplementary Exam Board.

Admission Requirements

The University welcomes applications from all potential students and most important in the decision to offer a place is our assessment of a candidate's potential to benefit from their studies and of their ability to succeed on this particular programme. Consideration of applications will be based on a combination of formal academic qualifications and other relevant experience.

The standard entry requirements for the programme are as follows:

Candidates for the MSc in Marketing and Management will normally have a first degree or its equivalent in any discipline from an approved higher education institution. Equivalent professional qualifications will also be eligible if supported with appropriate practical experience.

Usual entry requirement is: UK degree minimum 2:2 (Honours); International degree gross percentile average (GPA) of 2.5 out of 4.0 or 6.5 out of 10, or overall average of 70 from 100%.
As the programme is delivered entirely in English, applicants must be able to demonstrate proficiency in the English language thus, UK educated students must have a GCSE grade 4 (C) or above. Non-native speakers must have a 6.5 score on IELTS test of English or 94 in the internet-based TOEFL - exceptionally, holders of a UK degree awarded within 2 years prior to entry to the Bradford programme may be exempt from these English test requirements.

Applications are welcome from students with non-standard qualifications or mature students (those over 21 years of age on entry) with significant relevant experience.

Recognition of Prior Learning

If applicants have prior certificated learning or professional experience which may be equivalent to parts of this programme, the University has procedures to evaluate and recognise this learning in order to provide applicants with exemptions from specified modules or parts of the programme.
