Introduction

This programme has been specifically designed to allow you to study law and business in combination to provide a genuinely interdisciplinary degree. At every stage of your student journey, from induction to graduation, this degree offers you a thorough academic foundation in law and business, together with the practical and personal skills which will support you in becoming a capable reflective practitioner equipped for careers in a wide range of legal and business and management fields. This degree also provides a sound foundation for a wide range of more general careers.

The dual objectives of enhancing student employability and academic achievement are central to our distinctive curriculum, building on the success of our student law clinic, the proven track record of our School of Management, and our links with third sector and private legal advice services in Bradford. The BSc is delivered by a diverse team of academic staff, with expertise in legal and management research, legal practice, and business. The Law School is part of the Faculty of Management, Law and Social Sciences and your business and management modules will be taught by expert colleagues in the School of Management.

The interdisciplinary programme enables you to study key law modules, which give you a good grasp of legal skills and principles, alongside business and management modules, which give you a sound grasp one or more specific areas of that discipline. Your academic studies in years one and two are underpinned by two complementary modules which will develop your academic and clinical practice skills, imbue ethical awareness, and enhance your employability. In addition this BSc programme allows you to explore the impact of law on business and business on law and the interaction between the two disciplines. Your law options, in particular, are therefore focused on those issues which are relevant to a business context.

In the third year you will also have the opportunity to work in the dynamic, multicultural environment of our student law clinic, advising clients from the local community on a wide range of legal matters. The law clinic is primarily based at the local Citizens Advice Bureau, in Bradford city centre, where it was established in 2015. It has since expanded to a number of other locations and organisations including CHAS@StVincent's and Girdlington Advice Centre. Our law students help provide immigration advice (and get the opportunity to receive formal immigration law training, leading to the award of the Office of the Immigration Services Commissioner regulates immigration advisers in the UK, and this training can lead to the award of OISC Level 1 and 2 qualifications.

Besides the rigorous academic and clinical training offered within the curriculum, our students enjoy a rich variety of extra-curricular activities and opportunities. These include participation in mock trials and moots in the new Lady Hale Mock Court Room, opened by Baroness Hale of Richmond - the first woman to be made a Law Lord, then a Justice and finally President of the UK Supreme Court - in January 2020. Our students can take advantage of volunteering opportunities with a variety of advice organisations and within the university, court visits, external speakers, and there is a wide range of social and law-related events organised by our thriving Student Law Society. The School of Management has strong links with business and finance at local and national levels and beyond and offers an extensive range of extra-curricular events for business students. Supported by our dedicated colleagues in the Careers Service, you will also have the chance to obtain career mentoring and work experience through our links to our local legal, business, and not-for-profit communities. You will also have the option to spend an additional year studying abroad with one of our overseas partner universities, or take a work-placement year gaining invaluable experience and on-the-job learning in paid employment.

Please note that the University cannot arrange or guarantee student work placements itself, but does support students seeking placements through the Careers Service. Off-campus learning activities may involve an extra cost to the student.

Student Journey

Year 1

This progressive development of your legal academic, clinical, and professional skills is embedded in the curriculum in two complementary skills-based modules. These are woven together with the substantive law and business and management modules throughout Stages 1 and 2. Thus, throughout year 1, Introduction to Legal Skills (ILS) Skills provides a solid grounding in legal research, professionalism and legal ethics, legal careers, and legal skills, drawing, where appropriate for context and content, on your developing grasp of Contract Law. ILS introduces you to clinical legal skills by conducting legal research into a client problem. You will then draft advice letters and letters before action, leading to advocacy exercises where you have to argue your client's case. ILS also introduces legal and law-related careers, the transferability of skills, and the attributes of employability, including reflective practice, professionalism, and effective collaboration.

Year 2

In the first semester of year 2 Clinical Legal Skills in Context develops and deepens each of the areas covered in ILS, focusing on your clinical competencies and future employability. This will help you explore your potential options after graduation and prepare you for the Law Clinic module in your final year, should you take this option. CESC uses anonymised cases from the student law clinic to introduce you to interviewing and advising through role-play simulations, as well as further developing your practical legal research and letter drafting skills. CESC additionally builds on ILS by exploring legal, law-related and other careers and employability attributes in greater depth.

You will cover four core modules at Level 1 and only one at each of Levels 2 and 3, permitting maximum flexibility and optionality throughout your degree. The only limit is that you must balance your study in each of the two disciplines. You might well choose to follow a degree pathway which focuses on those aspects of law and business and management that you are most interested in. For example, you could select marketing modules throughout your degree to sit alongside business-related law modules, or you could focus on issues as they relate to people in the workplace by choosing options on employee relations or human resource management. If you are interested in financial aspects of business, you could focus on those instead. You might alternatively select options in different fields but should bear in mind that a number of the business and management options at Levels 5 and 6 carry prerequisites (require the study of prior modules). Your Programme Handbook will give you more information and your tutors will be able to advise you how to make the choices that best suit you.

Year 3

In your final year you can choose 100 of the 120 credits from a variety of law and business and management modules that correspond to your developing interests. To reinforce this emphasis on personal choice, and to promote diversity and inclusivity, you may also choose a Level 6 module from other disciplines, such as politics or sociology. You can also elect to take the Law Clinic option, as a 20-credit module in either semester, or as a 40-credit module throughout the academic year.

The 20-credit Dissertation (or the extended 40-credit Dissertation or 40-credit Final Year Business Project instead of this and one option, should you wish to conduct independent legal research in greater depth) is the only core (compulsory) module at this Stage. For your dissertation, in line with the focus on choice at this level, you get to choose your own topic on any area relevant to law and business and management, and design and undertake the research yourself, under the supervision of one of your lecturers.

You will study a total of 120 credits every year to achieve the BSc (Honours) Business Studies and Law. Over the course of your degree, you will study half your credits in Law modules and half in Business and Management modules.

Learning and Teaching Strategy

This undergraduate programme is designed to promote progressive learning and skills development through the three Stages (years) of your interdisciplinary degree. Your knowledge and understanding of the two disciplines will develop alongside your legal and transferable clinical skills. Throughout your studies you will experience a diverse range of learning activities designed to nurture your capacity for critical analysis, reflective practice, and professionalism. The overriding objective of the programme is to provide you with a rigorous academic legal and business and management education, develop your professional competencies and attributes, and enhance your graduate employability.

We deploy a variety of teaching and learning activities to suit diverse learning styles and the demands of specific modules, and to ensure an appropriate balance within and across the three Stages of your degree. These include some traditional lectures in most modules to introduce and explain the different topics and traditional tutorials (for which you have to prepare through reading and research). At each stage, across the full range of modules, there are also interactive lectures, practical, skills-based workshops, including team-based learning, in-class presentations, mini-moots and different forms of collaborative group work. We invite a number of outside speakers (some University alumni) including lawyers, business and management professionals, and judges, to provide practitioner insight and context. All modules are supported by materials provided through our Virtual Learning Environment, including, for example, a module handbook, session handouts, power point slides, sample questions, model answers, and reading lists and by a dedicated module leader who will be available to support your learning.

Assessment Strategy

The Programme assessment strategy is based on principles of academic rigour, diversity and inclusion. We employ a range of formative and summative assessment tasks which are designed to help you develop and demonstrate your understanding and skills as set out in the staged learning outcomes for each module and for the Programme overall. The formative assessment strategy includes monitoring learning throughout each semester, using a range of class activities, tutorials and coursework. Formative feedback may cover reports, essays, reflective notes, literature reviews, oral presentations, and group and individual tasks.

Summative assessment similarly comprises a variety of tasks, including essays and problem-solving coursework, advocacy exercises, portfolios of work, reflective logs, interviews and advice letters, clinic case reports, guides to legal rights, oral presentations, multiple choice question examinations, open book examinations, seen scenario examinations, and unseen examinations. We have designed our programme to ensure that you are not over assessed and that the assessment you do have to complete contributes to your learning in a meaningful way. Our assessments are designed to encourage you to think critically about legal and business and management problems.

Placement Year and Study Abroad Options

This programme provides the option for students to undertake a work placement or period of study abroad between Stages 2 and 3. Students wishing to take this option will be transferred to the 4-year programme.

We promote placement or study abroad year as there is overwhelming evidence as to the benefits. Research indicates that students benefit academically and professionally from a period abroad as part of their degree. Undergraduate students who went abroad during their studies were more likely to find a graduate job and had higher starting salaries than their non-mobile counterparts. The International Opportunities team can advise students about the available funding to support their study or work experience abroad.

Placement Year

Work placements are extremely valuable in helping students to develop their understanding of all aspects of law. Students are responsible for finding a placement, but they are fully supported by our dedicated work placements team who will advertise placement vacancies, help them with applications, CV writing, interview techniques and preparing for their time in work. There are regular visits to the School of Management by representatives of both local and national companies, looking to recruit graduates. There are also great opportunities for students to do shorter internships (6 or 8 weeks) or in company projects.

A year spent in employment provides an excellent opportunity to apply the knowledge, understanding and skills that students have developed during the earlier Stages of their programme. It will also enable students to further develop their transferable skills and may even secure their entry onto the graduate career ladder as many employers use a placement year as a method of recruitment onto their graduate training scheme. Our students are increasingly securing work placements, either during the summer vacation or for a full year in industry and the public sector.

Module Code	Module Title	Type	Credit	FHEQ Level	Study Period
MAL5009-Z	Placement	Core	0	5	Academic Year

Upon completing the period of placement/internship, students should come back on the programme and submit a completion report summarising key learning points. Successful completion of this will render the student eligible for an additional University award.

Study Abroad Year

Instead of a placement year, students can opt to study abroad for one year in one of our partner institutions worldwide, where students will be taught in English.

Study abroad has a number of benefits, not only is it a great experience in itself but also enhances the student's academic insights, employability and life skills and the Faculty and the University wish to encourage it, if the circumstances are appropriate.

Any student wishing to study abroad for a year should contact at first instance the International Opportunities Team to discuss the available year abroad opportunities. Then, they will have to consult with the Faculty Exchange Coordinator on the academic aspects of the exchange including the programme and modules. The student will have significant freedom in the selection of institutions and modules during the year abroad exchange. Finally, the Bradford Programme leader will be informed and consulted about the exchange to ensure compliance with any Bradford programme requirements. During the exchange the students will have support from the relevant University services.

Module Code	Module Title	Module Type	Credit	FHEQ Level	Study period
MAL5010-Z	Study Abroad	Core	0	5	Academic Year

Upon completing the period of study abroad, students should come back on the programme and submit a completion report summarising key learning points. Successful completion of this will render the student eligible for an additional University award.

Study Abroad Semester

Students are welcome to explore available opportunities for a Study Abroad Semester that may be viable for them via our International Opportunities team.

A Study Abroad Semester can be available ONLY if the modules offered by the host institution allow the student to meet the learning outcomes of the Bradford Programme during Semester 1 OR Semester 2.

Any student wishing to study abroad for a semester should first contact the International Opportunities Team to explore the opportunities and funding in place and, secondly, the Faculty Exchange Coordinator to check if the available options and relevant modules are in line with the University requirements. Following these checks, the International Opportunities Team and the Faculty Exchange Coordinator will liaise with the relevant Programme Leader to validate the modules and the semester exchange.

The semester exchange requires students to study only modules suitable to the Bradford programme when abroad. Therefore, all modules selected for the exchange will have to be mapped to the Bradford programme learning outcomes and be approved by the Programme Leader and the Director of Studies in Bradford in advance of the exchange. During the exchange, if the student needs to change the modules, this can only be done after approval of the Programme Leader and Director of Programmes.

If the student fails a module abroad, the student must:

- a) inform immediately the International Opportunities Team and the Faculty Exchange Coordinator
- b) explore the possibility of re-taking any exams at the host institution.

During the exchange, students will have support from the relevant University services. All credit successfully obtained whilst on study abroad semester will count towards the student's final degree. Our International Opportunities team can advise students about the available funding to support their study abroad.

The list of exchange partners and network of Universities available for Study Abroad Semester, as well as further information about international opportunities can be found online at www.bradford.ac.uk/exchanges/current-students.

Please note: Some exchange institutions are only available to undergraduate or postgraduate students. Any potential overseas exchange is dependent on student eligibility, student finance, and the appropriate modules required to fulfil the requirements of the programme being available at either institution.
